Vita

Anurag Singh Rathor is the Founder & CEO of Zify Carpool, India's 2nd largest carpooling community. He graduated in Computer Science & Engineering from Sikkim Manipal Institute of Technology and have worked with Wells Fargo as a Technology Specialist for Business Intelligence & Analytics in the Consumer Lending & Capital Markets group. In his 8 years of professional experience, Anurag has worked with large teams across continents.

Anurag is also a TEDx speaker and have been selected to speak at the Web Summit conference in Dublin (2014) on "Future of Road Transportation in India". Under his leadership, Zify has grown from a small startup to a global carpooling community across many cities in India and outside. Zify has also been recognized by the UK's Department for International Trade's Global Entrepreneur Programme as a "Technology of Exceptional potential". Anurag has been felicitated by the Honorable Mayor of Hyderabad, India for reducing Carbon emissions in the city.
